MB REAL ESTATE PROMOTES PATRICIA ALUISI TO COO

CHICAGO – June 27, 2017 – MB Real Estate (MBRE) announced today that it has promoted Patricia Aluisi to Chief Operating Officer. She is responsible for overseeing operations and daily administration across all business lines, as well as helping lead the firm’s strategic initiatives for future growth.

For six years, Aluisi has served as a member of the firm’s Executive Committee, providing effective implementation of programs and policies, along with advice that ensures the continued financial strength and operating efficiency of the company within a highly ethical setting. During her tenure, Aluisi has also helped increase the number of women sitting on MBRE’s Executive Committee, with four women having been promoted to the Committee in the last year alone.

“Pat has played a very multi-faceted role in her time with MBRE, but one of the most important things she’s done is act as a driving force behind our culture,” stated Peter Ricker, chairman and CEO of MBRE. “Pat has helped build a vibrant corporate structure that emphasizes the value of our employees, which allows us to place the needs of our clients first, an essential part of our future growth strategy.”

“What I love most about MBRE is the integrity of our staff,” commented Aluisi. You get great results when you have great people and you get even better results when you create an environment that empowers them to test ideas and achieve their personal and professional best.”

Aluisi has more than 35 years of cross-industry experience in a variety of leadership roles in law, commercial real estate, development, and construction management. She has held various executive-level positions that include serving as the only female director of London-based Bovis Ltd. At Bovis, Aluisi directed the company's finance-led transactions, including start-ups in the UK's Private Finance Initiative and global public/private (3P) projects. Aluisi also served as legal counsel for Bovis, where she was integral in expanding the company's business internationally, working in 20 countries and negotiating contracts as diverse as project management of Euro Disneyland, the Kuala Lumpur City Center (Petronas) project, and the Crown Jewel House at the Tower of London.

Aluisi is a founding trustee of the Naples Winter Wine Festival, the nation's most successful charity wine auction, having raised over $161 million for children and education since its inception in 2000.
